Core Competency Suggestions for Academics

Enable Change: Shared research that details the barriers to creating a supportive environment for health and wellbeing in a range of settings

Advocate for Health: Published an article in The Conversation advocating for more rigorous e-cigarette regulation by providing relevant research data

Mediate Through Partnership: Established a research partnership with members from a range of sectors to trial a health and wellbeing initiative

Communication: Developed key messages and a video to communicate key findings of a gambling research project

Leadership: Developed a funding proposal and led a large research study focused on elimination of cervical cancer

Assessment: Planned and implemented a survey of young people to understand their social inclusion needs to use as formative data

Planning: Planned a research study focused on increasing gender equity which included the development of measurable, achievable and sustainable goals

Implementation: Worked with the Aboriginal community to implement a research pilot focused on culturally appropriate breast screening

Evaluation and Research: Followed research protocols and obtained ethics clearance to undertake collaborative research into effective ways to increase mental wellbeing in specific settings